Farm Review Might Prove Any Viewpoint

Farmers' Opinions Of Ag Policy Run Full Range Of Possibilities

By HOMER FINE
(Farm Editor, The Star)

Grass roots suggestions for improving functions of a dozen department of agriculture agencies—solicited locally recently under the title of Family Farm Policy Review—will be used to prove a lot of different things.

A survey of 70 reports submitted so far from Nebraska counties, in fact, indicates suggestions made at local meetings will be used to prove some personal views held by a number of government officials and private writers who have definite ideas to push.

Farmers in the state can expect to find themselves lined up solidly behind suggestions to: (a) abolish the production marketing administration; (b) abolish the soil conservation service; (c) combine the PMA and SCS; (d) double the PMA's appropriations; (e) double the SCS's appropriations; and (f) leave both as they are—depending on who interprets the reports.

Suggestions made for other agencies of the department of agriculture could be similarly interpreted.

Grass Roots Sample

Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan asked for grass roots suggestions on how the service rendered by the department's 12 agencies could be improved. Meetings held by local mobilization committees, made up of representatives of agriculture department agencies in the counties, took the sampling.

Criticism of the Family Farm Policy Review flared up at once, branding the method "undemocratic" and the purpose "political." The county committees, headed by county PMA chairmen, had their orders, and like it or not, they could do nothing but hold the meetings. Much criticism was voiced about the department "investigating itself" rather than having it done by an independent agency.

The county reports, summarized and signed, were sent to the state mobilization committee where they are to be summarized into state reports and sent to Washington in about a week.

As public records, the county reports are open for inspection. Each of the department of agriculture agencies are listed, in most cases where directions were followed, with "recommended changes and improvements" as well as portions of programs which should be retained or abolished in each agency.

Sent To Washington

The state mobilization committee is covered because the county reports will be sent to Washington with the state summary. But anyone could find evidence to prove any point he chooses.

An example is Seward county, Nebraska, where 11 recommendations concerning the PMA were made. A farmer thought the PMA should be abolished. His wife suggested the same. Four farmers thought the agency "good as is." One farmer suggested combining the PMA and SCS, while another thought the two agencies should work closer together. Still another suggested eliminating PMA's Group Two practices and keeping Group One. A farmer suggested that PMA committeemen be elected on a 1-2-3-year basis, and the eleventh suggestion was to continue as at present.

Multiply that nearly a hundred times for the grass roots reaction to one agency and consider that each county had suggestions for most of the 12 departments of agriculture agencies. That would make a maximum of about 12,000 suggestions to the pick and choose from in any of the 48 states.

There was criticism and there was praise and there were recommendations for changing every one of the department of agriculture agencies. Some were undoubtedly offered because of selfish interests, but many others were prompted by the needs of the county, the state or the nation.

Norfolk Plant First To Face OPS Charges

OMAHA — (AP) — A petition for an injunction was filed Thursday against the Roman Packing company of Norfolk, Neb., by U.S. District Attorney Joseph T. Votava and the Office of Price Stabilization.

W. W. Keenan, district enforcement agent, said the petition is the first legal action taken in the Nebraska district by the OPS.

Keenan's affidavit charged that during the recent statewide slaughterhouse probe, three OPS agents discovered that the Norfolk plant had failed to comply with major provisions of the OPS meat control regulations, which have been in effect since May 1.

The specific charges, according to Keenan, are failure to keep records required by the OPS, and failure to follow prescribed weighing procedures.

Allied Drive Gains Up To Four Miles

Reds Hurl A Vicious Counter Attack At UN

Huge British Centurion Tanks Pace Smash By 100,000 Allied Soldiers

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea—(Friday)—(AP)—Chinese reds surged down from their hilltop bunkers today and attacked U.S. positions in waves on the flaming western front.

The reds were fighting furiously to crack the allied line, which was cold or limited the advance to scanty yards.

At the two places where the allies penetrated, the advance totaled four miles in two days.

The reds fought fiercely from eight-foot-thick log bunkers and deep foxholes on wooded slopes.

Three American divisions, the First cavalry, Third and 23rd, the South Korean First division, the 25,000-man British Commonwealth division and Turkish, Greek and Filipino brigades made up the attacking force.

Heavily censored field dispatches gave no indications of casualties on either side. Captured communists, however, appeared dazed and numb by 36 hours of artillery preparation and two days of incessant shelling during the allied advance.

Capron Sees End To Dip In Business

Transportation Slump Is Due To Controls, Smaller Crops, Rail Official Says

L. R. Capron, of Chicago, vice-president in charge of traffic for the Burlington railroad, told The Star Thursday that railroad officials have predicted an end to the present business dip by the end of the fourth yearly quarter.

Capron was in Lincoln on one of his regular inspection tours.

"The decrease in transportation business," said Capron, "is the result of smaller crops this year and the government controls on building. Lumber shipments, for instance, have been considerably curtailed in the last three or four months."

The Burlington executive found one note of relief in the downward business trend. "It has certainly been a pleasure," he said, "to travel the country and not be continually faced with a shortage of cars."

Capron decline to comment on the causes for the recent box-car shortage. The business slump, he said, has helped solve the problem.

As to industry in general, Capron stated that while there has been quite an industrial expansion in the territory west of the Missouri river that the greatest increase has been in the Pacific coast states and Texas. That growth, he said, has come as the result of an increase in population.

Nebraska in particular, he said, could experience a major business boom if oil were found here to any great extent. Lincoln itself, he added, is getting its share of industrial expansion. Among such

NWU Phys Ed Building Fund Drive Hits 50% Mark

Nebraska Wesleyan university has nearly half of the money necessary to construct a new physical education building, Dr. Virgil C. Welch, assistant to the chancellor for financial cultivation, said Thursday.

In a report to the Wesleyan board of trustees, he said that $173,836 of the $350,000 necessary is available in cash and pledges.

The board, in its annual fall business meeting, also received Chancellor Carl C. Bracy's fall report which touched on enrollment, faculty and buildings and grounds.

646 Students.

Dr. Bracy told the board that the total enrollment now stands at 646 students for the current year, a decline of 12 per cent over the total 1950-51 figure.

"Actually we are delighted at the enrollment figure," Dr. Bracy declared, "because we had anticipated a much larger drop and an enrollment of nearer 550 students this fall."

Dr. Bracy pointed out that 90 per cent of the students are from Nebraska and 67 per cent come from Methodist homes. He gave credit to Admissions Counsellor Vicente Colon for the enrollment figure.

Dr. Bracy presented a building by building review of improve-

He also announced the appointment of two employees, W. C. Barnes and Coleman Phelps, who will temporarily divide the buildings and grounds responsibilities relinquished by Ralph B. Smith who resigned the directorship of that department last month.

Dr. Bracy told of the appointment of nine new faculty members for the current year. They are:

Dr. A. Leland Forrest, dean of the college; George W. Anderson, instructor in band; Walter R. French, assistant professor of physics; John Grayson, instructor in physical education for men and basketball coach.

No Foolin' This Time

By J. E. LAWRENCE

LOS ANGELES—I talked with a friend on the Milwaukee Journal last week, and with two other Wisconsin newspaper men about this man Joe McCarthy. The visits had taken place before Connecticut's Senator Benton had initiated virtually unprecedented action to oust a colleague from membership in the senate. I had asked "Wally" Lamone what the chances were that McCarthy would face real opposition in the republican primary next spring. The Milwaukee Journal has been McCarthy's sharpest, most effective critic. Lamone was uncertain but hopeful that Wisconsin's Governor Kohler would take on McCarthy.

Since then the question has been fully answered by the governor's announcement while attending the conference of governors in the South. He said he will be a candidate against one of the most controversial figures of present-day America. That is a most happy development. Governor Kohler, in the first place, is a man of unimpeachable standing, able, vigorous, a grand campaigner, a member of one of Wisconsin's old families in the sense of substantial achievements. The chances are that Senator McCarthy will have much less time for his favorite pastime of head-hunting in the state department and much more interest in rebuilding his own fences. His announced rival is recognized widely as a regular republican of conservative views so that it will be necessary for McCarthy to dig up a new line, which we doubt he can. He is just another Joe until he puts on his hunting clothes.

At the same time, Senator Benton's fight should not go unheralded. It is one of the brave struggles in recent years. Benton has unreservedly committed himself to it—burned all his bridges behind him—decided to stake his political life upon it. That is not the mere braying of a politician. McCarthy has a long memory and naturally can be expected to exact an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth. Not forgotten is the part he played in the defeat of Sen. Millard Tydings in the Maryland election a year ago. We understand that Benton has told associates he intends to press McCarthy's ouster from the senate regardless of the effect upon Benton's political fortunes. You hear many stories, how-

A Hero In

The House

One large orchid of brightest color to Senator John J. Williams, Delaware republican. He won his fight last week to strip the president, the vice-president, and members of congress of lush, tax-free expense accounts. Now his bill, which passed the senate by a rousing vote, 77 to 11, goes to the house where its fate is not yet certain.

Chances are that taxes on the salaries which Uncle Sam pays and then levies upon will not wipe out the national debt, or even suffice to keep the treasury in the black for more than a minute at the present pace of spending, but they will contribute enormously to the stature of congress.

Paul R. Busch . . .

Editor's note: The Howells Journal is an institution among Nebraska weeklies, well-edited, crisp and entertaining. Its talented editor, Paul Busch, in a guest editorial tackles one of Nebraska's most pressing issues. An adequate, acceptable tax structure is certain to be very much in public discussion in the immediate years ahead.

Nebraska should eliminate its personal property tax—and the sooner the better.

Brushing aside the fact that our personal property tax law has miraculously given us fine homes without furniture, well-dressed people without clothes and entire precincts without a timepiece, the important fact is that this lopsided levy hits some people with a sledge hammer, while gently tapping others with a feather.

The personal property tax is unfair because by its very nature it places the heaviest tax burden on certain kinds of business. A few types of commercial enterprises, such as lumber yards, grain elevators, hardware stores, implement agencies, garages and department stores, pay heavy personal taxes because their operations demand large inventories.

At the same time other business and professional men, such as insurance agencies, auditors, doctors, lawyers or brokers, pay a small personal tax because the nature of their activities does not call for inventories.

A similar situation exists in farming. Grain farmers, especially "suitcase farmers" in western Nebraska, sell all their crop at harvest time and have little or nothing that an assessor can list. On the other hand, farmers who feed cattle or hogs find themselves paying big personal taxes.

This is no reflection on grain farmers, insurance agencies, auditors, doctors, lawyers or brokers, who are just as honest and just as fair as any other group of citizens. It is a reflection on our personal property law that does not treat citizens with equal justice.

The personal property tax in Nebraska is a mistake and the sooner the law is repealed the better. As every assessor knows, this law penalizes honesty and under it some property is rated at a high per cent of its value while other types of property are rated at a low per cent of their value. There is also a wide variation between counties in placing a tax value on the same kind of merchandise.

A state sales tax would be fairer than the personal property tax and a state income tax would be the fairest of all because it would take into consideration the fundamental principle of taxation—the ability to pay.

Here is an example of how our present unfair law operates:

Let us suppose that on a Nebraska street there are three buildings. The first building is a furniture store with a $50,000 stock and the owner made a profit of $10,000 last year. Next to him is a doctor's office. The doctor, who has equipment assessed at $5,000, also made a profit of $10,000 during the past year. The third business place is a restaurant with equipment assessed at $25,000 and the owner made a profit of $10,000. Above the restaurant in a single room lives a retired gentleman who invested his money in stocks and bonds. He, too, had a profit for the year of $10,000.

Each of these four citizens made the same amount of money during the past year—but in Nebraska does each man pay the same tax? Oh, no! The furniture dealer pays twice as much personal tax as the restaurant proprietor and ten times as much as the doctor—while the man who lives on his investments pays practically nothing at all.

Let's quit kidding ourselves. Let's get down to business and find a more equitable method of taxation.

The Newspaperboy's Day

It is only fitting that our newspaperboys, the lads who make certain your newspaper is on your doorstep every morning, should have a day set aside annually in their honor. He makes his rounds in all kinds of weather, learning at the same time the excellent traits of self-reliance, dependability, resourcefulness and businesslike conduct of his duties.

Fourteen outstanding Lincoln Star newspaperboys—nine carriers in Lincoln and five in outstate delivery zones—will be honored with a special award for outstanding service by the Inland Daily Press association. The Star's top-ranking carrier will join the best of other dailies throughout Nebraska as the guest of Gov. Val Peterson at luncheon Saturday in the executive mansion. And all carriers will be entertained Saturday morning at a free movie.

It will be a great day for a bunch of fine youngsters who serve you and us well. The slogan under which they operate, "Busy Boys are Better Boys," is an accurate one, and they grow into better men as a result of their character-building and profitable enterprise. A special salute from The Star to our newspaperboys.

Acheson Tells Truman He Will Stick With Him

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Several times in the past twelve months Secretary of State Acheson has told President Truman it might be expedient for him to resign. Each time the president has vigorously objected. Today, however, Acheson has changed his mind. He is planning to stay on as secretary of state for the remainder of Truman's term.

He has even talked privately to friends about joining the president in a political campaign—if the Republicans nominate Taft. Acheson says he's ready to hit every whistle stop in the country to tell the voters what Taft's election would mean to Americans foreign policy—especially the chaos it would bring to our Atlantic pact defenses against communism.

Acheson's more buoyant frame of mind is due, of course, to the avalanche of praise resulting from San Francisco; also the fact that the American public had a chance to see him on television and realize he was an adroit master of difficult diplomatic parley, not a stuffed shirt.

The barrage of past criticism, however, has made Acheson sensitive, sometimes lonely. At the Ottawa conference, someone told him that while he may not be popular in the United States, he has 14,000,000 votes in Canada—Canada having a population of 14,000,000.

"Sometimes I think," replied the secretary of state with a touch of sadness, "that all my support comes from outside the United States."

REAL BROTHERHOOD

It isn't always that a preacher sees his sermon bear immediate fruit. But some time ago, John L. Peters, a professor of religion at Oklahoma City university, preached a sermon at St. Luke's Methodist church which got the people of Oklahoma City so aroused that they are beating congress in putting across one important part of U.S. foreign policy.

"Before the war," Professor Peters told his congregation, "Kagawa, sometimes called the 'Christ of Japan,' wrote to Americans: 'Send us thousands of your sons as missionaries now or you will send us tens of thousands of them as soldiers later.' We would not do the first. We were forced to do the second."

"MacArthur invited the Chinese to send a thousand missionaries to Japan. It was an open door and a golden opportunity.

"The people of our country deserve the best in their elected officials, regardless of party. Any one who is paying $13,000 in back taxes is either a poor keeper of his own accounts or has violated the laws of his country."

"No matter what the reason, he hardly deserves to be responsible for the destiny of one of our most important states. Perhaps the most fantastic thing of all is that the governor says that it (his tax arrears) is a purely personal matter."

"Since when," demanded Hays, "is the integrity of the governor of a great state a purely personal matter?"

"Practice always has been more eloquent than preaching," said might make a fortune by installing a pair of chinchillas in such a place. Though master of the house, I know better than to move in any animals, even small and cute ones."

GOVERNOR'S TAXES

It's unheard of for a governor not to be defended by congressmen of his own state and party if he is attacked on the floor of congress by a member of the opposite party.

However, though the state of Iowa has some able and valuable representatives in its all-republican house delegation, not one opened his mouth when democratic Congressman Wayne Hays of Ohio recently denounced the income-tax "amnesia" of Iowa's GOP Governor William Beardsley.

The Iowa republicans turned a deaf ear as Hays told the house: "The people of our country deserve the best in their elected officials, regardless of party. Any one who is paying $13,000 in back taxes is either a poor keeper of his own accounts or has violated the laws of his country."

Highway No. 2

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The central Sandhills took a long step toward coming into its own as far as roads are concerned with the recent completion of blacktopping on State Highway No. 2 in the Halsey-Dunning region.

Having just completed a trip to the Panhandle via No. 2, I'd say the route now provides the easiest, quickest, safest access across state. It also, for the first time, provides eastern Nebraskans with fast, instant access to the Black Hills gateway.

Now, if Mr. Aitken and his good department could smooth out the bumps, dips, and weaves along some No. 2 stretches between Thedford and Mullen, the cow country highway would be even more valuable.

Partly the administration is to blame for what has happened. If so much information had not been kept back, marked secret or restricted, if facts had been given to the public on the assumption that a mature people can evaluate facts, there would be far less confusion and mystery around the making of foreign policy both in the east and the west.

While McCarthy was arguing with Fulbright over his "evidence" against Philip Jessup, nominated to be a member of America's delegation to the United Nations assembly, the top loyalty review board was taking final action. The board found that there was no reasonable doubt of Jessup's loyalty.

This finding cannot be brushed aside by McCarthy partisans.

Chairman of the board is former Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut. Throughout his long career Bingham has been a conservative republican. Beyond prejudice or influence with a distinguished reputation in several fields, he has given long and conscientious consideration to the rights of the individual.

With McCarthy on the defensive, 25 republican senators have signed a statement charging an organized smear by the administration. Several signers have indicated it was meant to cover the McCarthy case among others.

It includes character destruction from the senate floor with the privilege of immunity. It relies heavily on guilt by association and innuendo, taking innocent statements out of the context of time and place. One result has been to weaken safeguards built up through the years giving the individual the right to a fair hearing.

U.S. Never Considered Recognizing Red China—Jessup

British Action Not Approved, Senators Told

(From Press Dispatches) WASHINGTON — Ambassador-at-large Philip C. Jessup swore Thursday night that the United States has "never considered the recognition of communist China."

Jessup, a top adviser to Secretary of State Acheson, also declared:

"The United States has never agreed with any other government that the United States would under any given circumstances recognize communist China."

Jessup, a top adviser to Secretary of State Acheson, also declared:

"The United States has never recommended to the president or to the national security council that the United States recognize communist China."

Testifies Under Oath

Moreover, he said, this country has "never expressed its approval or concurrence" with the action taken by Great Britain and other countries in recognizing the Chinese reds.

Testing under oath at a Senate inquiry, Jessup declared he himself had a part in formulating the non-recognition policy. The inquiry, by a Senate foreign relations subcommittee, is in connection with President Truman's nomination of Jessup to be a delegate to the United Nations.

Among the items being considered are charges by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) that Jessup has an "affinity for communists causes."

Offers Memorandum

Jessup made public a memorandum dated July 18, 1949, to bolster his contention that Sen. Smith (R-N.J.) and Brig. Gen. Louis Fortier must have "misunderstood" him when they got the impression he was predicting early U.S. recognition of communist China.

The memo apparently differed from a statement by former Gov. Harold Stassen that Acheson proposed at a 1949 White House conference that the U.S. abandon nationalist China.

Stassen said he learned of the conference from the late Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and that Jessup sided with Acheson, but that they both were overruled by President Truman.

JESSUP . . . no thought of following Britain's lead.

Jessup also said that he has "no recollection" of a conversation in October, 1949, in which Stassen reported Jessup sided with the "Owen Lattimore group" in a state department conference.

Dismissal Motion Denied In Mid-Continent Suit Against 'Flight' Taxes

OMAHA — (AP) — A three-judge panel of federal judges Thursday denied a motion to dismiss from federal court a suit brought by Mid-Continent air lines.

The line claims a state law taxing "flight equipment" of airlines is unconstitutional.

The panel was composed of Circuit Judge Joseph W. Woodrough, and federal District Judges James A. Donohoe and John W. Delehardt.

Mid-Continent operates across eastern Nebraska, making stops at Lincoln and Omaha.

The 1950 levy against the firm under Nebraska law was said to be slightly more than $4,000.

Austin Testifies
Jessup Needed
To Carry Torch
...Against Communism

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Warren R. Austin said Thursday the American delegation to the United Nations needs Ambassador-at-Large Philip C. Jessup to help "carry the torch" against communism.

Describing Jessup as a "powerful protagonist" of American interests, without a trace of communist sympathies, Austin defended Jessup against pro-communist charges fired by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

McCarthy is seeking to block Senate confirmation of President Truman's nomination of Jessup as a United Nations delegate.

Austin, chief of the American delegation to the U.N. and a former Republican senator from Vermont, told a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee there is "no question" of Jessup's loyalty to the United States, and he praised the ambassador as an example of "the highest statesmanship, character and ability."

Wallace To Testify

While Austin threw his support behind Jessup, there were these relating developments:

1. Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) of a Senate internal security subcommittee announces that his group will question former Vice President Henry A. Wallace "in the next day or so" in connection with a current inquiry into the affairs of the Institute of Pacific Relations (IPR).

2. Chairman Sparkman (D-Ala.) of the Senate foreign relations subcommittee, which is conducting the Jessup inquiry, disclosed that Harold E. Stassen, former Republican governor of Minnesota, has urgently requested an opportunity to testify. Sparkman said the request will probably be granted.

Lincoln PTA Committee Chairmen

Dr. Steven Watkins, superintendent of the Lincoln public schools, reported on the bond issue and spoke on the building situation at the Thursday meeting of the Lincoln Council, P.T.A., held at the Y.M.C.A. Dr. Watkins thanked the members for their aid in making the bond issue a success, and urged each member to write her congressman asking that consideration be given to the need of structural steel for school buildings, as the attendance problem in the Lincoln schools may become critical unless attention is given to building needs.

Mrs. Fred Sehnert, president of the Lincoln council, conducted the meeting and welcomed the group.

The following council chairmen were introduced: Mrs. James Wynkoop, adult homemaking; Mrs. A. L. Sinamark and Miss Inez B. Hannan, audio-visual; Mrs. Clifford Jones, budget and finance; Mrs. H. W. Ellis, Mrs. Charles Lebsack and Mrs. Silas Pierce, hospitality; Mrs. Harold Shedd, library; Mrs. Roy Vermaas, membership;

Pricing Change Partial Victory For President

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The senate Thursday passed, 49 to 21, a bill modifying the pricing provision in the economic controls law denounced by President Truman as "the terrible Capehart act."

Senator Butler (R-Neb.) voted with the minority. Senator Wherry (R-Neb.) has been ill and absent from the senate.

The measure was described by its sponsors as taking a middle-of-the-road position between Mr. Truman's demand for repeal of the amendment, named for Senator Capehart (R-Ind.), and outright retention of it as many republicans senators wanted.

The bill would modify some of the rigid provisions in the Capehart amendment on costs—which must be taken into account by the office of price stabilization in fixing price ceilings.

The vote marked a partial victory for Mr. Truman on one of

Clark Gable Asks Divorce, Charging Mental Cruelty

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
(Copyright 1951, by International News Service, Inc.)

HOLLYWOOD — (INS) — Clark Gable filed suit for divorce in Las Vegas Thursday. He was represented by William Coulthard, Las Vegas attorney.

Gable did not himself appear. He had completed his six weeks residence necessary for a Nevada divorce and left Reno the night before without telling anyone but a few close friends of his intentions.

The suit charged mental cruelty and stated that the couple held no community property within the state.

Mrs. Gable had filed her divorce complaint in Santa Monica last May.

Thursday, Attorney Jerry Geis-ler said that he will amend her original complaint in a few days and ask for alimony.

What that alimony request will be has been rumored from $100,000 a year to $1,000,000.

Giesler said: "We will ask for a reasonable amount."

He refused to state what he considered "a reasonable amount."

At the time she filed, Sylvia refused to discuss alimony but the lady has changed her mind.

Big Battle Brews

The meeting between Mr. and Mrs. Gable's attorney fell apart because Mrs. Gable's lawyers, Jerry Giesler and Barry Brennan, requested that Clark's income tax returns be submitted to them.

Clark's attorney, William Gilbert, Jr., refused to allow Mrs. Gable's attorneys to see them.

This looks like it is going to be the battle of the century, because Clark is determined to fight against paying any exorbitant alimony. He has said that Mrs. Gable is rich, and that he has very little money left since his marriage because of the expenditures she made.

500 Musicians To Participate In Wesleyan's First Band Day

Final plans were in the making for the first annual band day as part of the halftime ceremonies.

Directors and their wives will be guests of the Wesleyan music department and the University Place Businessmen's association at a dinner meeting at 5 p.m.

Anderson said the bands, accompanied by the Pride of the Plainsmen organization from Wesleyan, will participate in a marching festival beginning at 1:30 p.m. on the campus.

The Wesleyan baton twirling corps will work with twirlers from the nine high schools during the afternoon and will present a twirling clinic in the band rooms in the C. C. White auditorium later in the afternoon.

Dr. Floyd L. Rogers, Lincoln physician, told the Knife and Fork club at the Y.W.C.A. Thursday noon about the Springfield camp for diabetic children, located at Nebraska City.

Dr. Rogers said that the camp is set up to benefit the 150 diabetics in Nebraska. The camp provides recreation and entertainment for the children as well as instruction as to "How to Live" with their diabetes.

All children who apply are ac-

Coach Bun Galloway Has Named These Defending Champion Rockets To Start...

Coach Bill Pfeiff's Challenging Lincoln High Starting Lineup...

Northeast To Lack Services Of Junior Thomas In Annual Classic; Links 'Up'

But Green Defending Champs' Spirits Are High

BY JIM CLARK
(Star Sports Staff Member)
For the second straight week the Northeast Rockets will be playing without the services of their fleet-footed back, Junior Thomas.

Although it appeared toward the first of the week that his ankle injury would be mended in time for the all important game with Lincoln high, Thursday night's drills found him still hobbling on the practice field.

Besides Thomas, Coach Bun

Bun Galloway:

"I feel that even with an inexperienced squad, we will give a very good account of ourselves out there tomorrow night."

Galloway will also be without the services of his number one blocking back, Howard Thrappe, who suffered a bad charley horse in Tuesday's scrimmage and has been unable to engage in any spirited practice since.

Aside from the injuries, the Black and White players were bubbling with high spirits Thursday night as they ran through their last drill session before the fray for the intra-city crown.

As indicated by the Rocket roster, the squad is dominated with young inexperienced players who have shown signs of real football savvy during portions of their first three games.

Galloway believes that if they can put together what they have learned in past contests and get a reasonable number of breaks they can give the Red and Black from down Lincoln high way a long evening.

Scoring to date for the Rockets has been more on a team basis rather than individual performance as it was last year when they had All-Stater Jim Cederahl in their ranks. Thomas is high with nine points, followed by Larry DeLaney with seven.

Captains for the annual affair will be Ivan Lewis and Thomas, acting in an honorary position.

Larry Jansen, Eddie Lopat To Hurl Today

... Durochermen Take World Series Opener, 5-1

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — (INS) — "Baaaaaaa for to-morrow gaaaaaaa, for the Gee-yiiliiins—Larry Jaaaaaaaannnnnnnn, for the Yankeez, Eddie Looooooopat."

At least that's what the public address bull-horns said Thursday night, as the big town buzzed over the surprising victory of the Giants in Thursday's opener and waited for that second shoe to drop.

Off their printed records there seems little to choose between the pitchers for game No. 2, Jansen, who pitched one inning and got credit for the stupendous triumph of the Giants over the Dodgers in Wednesday's playoff game, won 23 and lost 11 during the season, Lopat, fine Yankee south-paw, won 21 and lost 9.

Leo Durocher probably will juggle his lineup a bit with a left-paw opposing the Giants. Henry Thompson and Whitey Lockman will exchange places. Casey Stengel may use Woodling in the outfield instead of Bauer.

The Giants feel it won't make any difference.

CHEWED YANKS

For, with their heads still in the clouds, and their hearts like that of a lion, the simply supernatural Giants chewed up the Yankees Thursday, 5-1, in the first game of the World Series.

The looked-for letdown in the wake of their emotional binge of the day before was nowhere in sight. They were as taut and ready as at any time during their fabled surge to the top.

They beat the well-rested and complacent Yanks with Southpaw Dave Koslo, one of their relief pitchers. They beat 'em, too, with a blistering 10-hit attack that upended the great Allie Reynolds and sent that classic thrower to a premature tub.

Reynolds, masterful architect of two no-hit no-run games this past season, looked like a wobbly, bumbling practice pitcher to the rose-colored eyes of Leo Durocher's men.

A magnificent Negro athlete named Monte Irvin boldly stole the thunder that is usually reserved for Yankee bats. The lad from Orange, N. J., bashed out four hits, including a crunching 457-foot triple, stole home in the first inning, and made a storybook, fence-climbing catch of Hank Bauer's savage blast in the Yank half of the same inning.

DARK STARS

And if that were not enough to tip the composure of the Yanks, Al Dark came up in the sixth inning of what was then a tight 2-1 ballgame and hit a three-and-one pitch into the left field seats, with mates Wes Westrum and Eddie Stanky aboard.

The wonder of the massive crowd of 65,673, as it left the stadium this darkly gray and gusty afternoon, was that the Giants had not won it even more decisively.

Koslo wove a mighty spell over the most feared team in baseball. He made the Yankee sluggers suspect they had brought towels to the plate instead of lumber. Joe Collins, Rizzuto, and Yogi Berra got the only Yankee hits after the second. But they were passive singles into right, and resulted in about as much as a grade-crossing accident probe.

David, in the process of slaying the Goliath of baseball, froze out

Huskers Are Showing Improvement

HERE'S been a new look on the Cornhusker drilyard this week.

You never saw a squad buckle down to business like this group of young Scarlets. At last, they are completely down to earth.

A member of the fresh squad, used as cannon fodder for the platoon, summed it up in a nutshell.

"Those guys are playing like their lives depended on it," the kid puffed. "I've never been hit so hard in my life."

You catch the air of dead seriousness from the sidelines. Not an ounce of horse play or half-speed effort has been evident all week.

"A lot of people have told me that they still have confidence in us," a junior lineman told The Firing Line. "I sure hope we can come through for them."

Among the important improvements have been the blocking and tackling.

The blockers have been charging hard, getting the jump. They have been digging in and drawing the charge.

Tackling was hard and sure in the Wednesday scrimmage. Chaps like Carl Brasie, Ed Husmann, Jerry Minnick and Bob Mullen were roaring down on the ball carrier like they wanted to devour him alive.

Yes sir, the Huskers are back down to earth. You can expect steady improvement from here on out.

HOW the Huskers fare Saturday against Kansas State, we believe, depends upon how much their pass defense has improved since the Texas Christian tragedy.

Horned Frogs passers hit an amazing total of 14 of 20 tries. It was the lack of anything resembling a pass defense that caused the Huskers' downfall.

One of the contributing factors was inexperience of Tom Caroline and John Bordogna in the defensive secondary.

Caroline and Bordogna, both offensive specialists, had hardly seen a bit of defensive work up to three days before the TCU game. Their inexperience as defenders showed strongly.

From here on, they will be used entirely on offense, Glassford says.

Emil Radik, Omaha freshman, and Max Kennedy, Beatrice sophomore, will start at defensive halfbacks against Kansas State.

Radik, after allowing one touchdown over his head Saturday, steadied down and seemed to get the feel of the position. He's a fast eager kid—the type who will improve.

Kennedy, not the fastest lad on two tootsies, has good football sense. He's a gritty little lad, a bit short (5-9) for the best in pass defense, but he still has a knack for being at the right place at the right time.

Addition of Cliff Hopp, out with injuries against TCU, to the linebacking corps should help. The Georgia transfer, who isn't easily fooled, adds that much-needed savvy.

Goods For Needy Eskimos Stolen From Car Here

Thieves who looted the car of Dr. Carl J. Henkelmann, 1535 L. Dr. Henkelmann spends much of his time while hunting in Alaska. "The hunting hasn't been too good up there this year," Dr. Henkelmann said, "and the family needs clothing badly." One boy, he recalls, is forced to wear shoes "two or three sizes too big."

Dr. Henkelmann, who returned from an Alaskan trip just two and a half weeks ago, estimated the loss at $35.

The Lincoln dentist, big-game hunter and lecturer, told police Thursday he had assembled the "Everything for Rent" is a handy classification in the Journal & Star Want Ads. Check it.

5 Serving For Killings To Be Heard

Pardon Board Lists 18 Cases For November

Five persons convicted of killings are included in the 11 penitentiary inmates whose pleas for clemency will be heard by the state pardon and parole board at its meeting Nov. 14. Pleas of seven inmates of the men's reformatory will also be heard.

Three of the men are serving terms from 30 years to life on second degree murder charges. Two were given 8 and 10 year sentences on charges of manslaughter.

Sam Smart, 50, Yutan, the board records show, was sentenced to 10 years for manslaughter in Saunders county in December, 1946, charged with shooting his brother during fight at his home where he had been drinking.

Inmate Since 14.

Gary L. Ames, 27, Wilmington, Mass., entered the penitentiary as a boy of 14, when he and Don Galloway, 20, were convicted of killing Edwin Billings in a box car on a train passing through Odessa. The board records show that Galloway shot Billings and that Ames then mutilated the body with a knife.

James E. Jackson, 75, with no permanent address, was convicted of second degree murder and given a 30 year sentence in Sheridan county in 1935. He was accused of shooting to death Florence Fagan at Antioch on April 30, 1920 during a drinking spree. He escaped and was not caught until November, 1935, when he was found in San Jose, Calif., and returned for trial. He was using the name of J. H. Elliott when arrested.

Wilfred R. Kitto, 42, Bloomfield, the records show shot and killed another man who had been bothering his wife while a church meeting was being held at their farm home in 1948. He was given an 8-year sentence for manslaughter.

Thomas Farmer, 49, Omaha, was given a life sentence for stabbing his wife to death during an argument over financial matters.

Also to be heard is the plea of Kenneth Mitzner, 27, who was found guilty in Lincoln of statutory rape in May 1946. His victim was an 11-year-old girl who was enroute to school and whom he picked up in his car at Fifteenth and O streets. He later took the girl to school and she reported the incident and his auto license to the teacher.

Is There an Actual Science of Prayer?

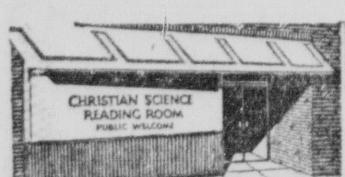

Ask yourself: What would it mean to prove that prayer is answered? To prove beyond question that, in today's world, there is a way to pray that is practical and effective?

A great book, read daily by a steadily increasing host,

SCIENCE AND HEALTH WITH KEY TO THE SCRIPTURES

by Mary Baker Eddy
is revealing to men the true Science of prayer. They are learning how Jesus prayed, and how to go and do likewise, exactly as he prophesied.

This is the great discovery—humanity's answer. For those turning in thankfulness to this long-awaited Comforter, it is solving life's problems aright. It can be the great answer for you.

Science and Health may be bought, borrowed or read at
